Training Division Table of Organization

1. Tab A reflects the present table of organization for the Training Division and a proposed table of organization for such Division. Positions shown with an asterisk on the proposed table of organization are new positions which are being requested.

2. Comments on the requested positions are as follows:

a. Office of the Chief - Administrative Officer and Clerk-typist
The functions of the Administrative Officer in Training Division include preparing the annual budget, maintaining an unvouchered revolving fund with sub-accounts for various training offices, arranging for facilities and supply support for the training area
at [REDACTED], and seven safe houses, maintaining accountability for property at training areas, renting rooms for covert training and other normal administrative duties. Due to the various locations of training facilities and variety of duties to be performed, an additional Administrative Officer appears justified. The addition of one Clerk-typist for the Office of the Chief is required to perform routine typing and filing duties.

b. Special Projects Staff - Six positions
At the time the existing table of organization was prepared it was thought that branch chiefs could perform many extra duties in addition to regular branch duties. It has been found that branch chiefs are fully occupied in their own fields of training and can perform additional functions only at the expense of their primary missions. Additional duties to be performed are in part:

- (1) Instructor training and guidance instruction.
- (2) Advice and assistance to the operating divisions of Office of Special Operations and Office of Policy Coordination regarding special training of indigenous personnel overseas.
- (3) Planning, coordination and/or conduct of the training of foreign personnel within the United States.
- (4) Conduct of special training for Office of Special Operations/Office of Policy Coordination staff personnel such as the Rapid Reading Course.

- (6) Training liaison with outside agencies.
- (7) Compilation of special manuals for the use of Office of Special Operations/Office of Policy Coordination staff case officers in special overseas training.
- (8) Preparation of Office of Special Operations/Office of Policy Coordination training requirements for mobilization.
- (9) Training of Office of Special Operations/Office of Policy Coordination reserve personnel for mobilization.

This Staff is of the opinion that additional people are required to aid the Chief of Training Division in the conduct of the above functions but questioned the need for four professional people. The Chief of Training Division made strong representations to this Staff that the four would be required and based on his presentations it is recommended that the requested positions be authorized.

c. Training Materials Staff - One each Information and Editorial Specialist, Document Control Officer and Educational Specialist (Visual)

There are between 250 and 300 subjects being taught in the Training Division for which course folders with outlines of each course and lecture material must be prepared. Pilot folders only have been made at this time. In addition, case studies for the courses taught must be edited and published for student use. The addition of one Information and Editorial Specialist is required. In order to control, classify and index for inclusion in proper background material files the intelligence information flowing into the Training Division, one Document Control Officer is required. In relation to supplying visual aids to training activities in the United States and overseas the Chief of Training Division states that he is one and one-half years behind in work to be done. He has utilized where possible other facilities of the Agency to aid in reducing the backlog. It is impossible to do everything in the time desired, however, one additional visual aids specialist would improve the situation and is therefore recommended.

d. Staff Training Branch

Common Instruction Section - Instructor - Interim Study
In order to provide work assignments to students who have completed one course and are awaiting the entry into another course one instructor is required and is so recommended.

Advanced Specialized Section - Two Instructors
Under the present table of organization there is no provision for advanced specialized instruction in Escape and Evasion and International Communism. Since these programs are of major interest to Office of Special Operations and Office of Policy Coordination the approval of the positions is recommended.

e. Covert Training Branch - Two instructors and one Clerk-typist
Under the proposed table of organization there would be 13 professional personnel and 3 clerical personnel. The clerical ratio appears low, however, most of the work of this Branch is conducted outside government facilities. The third clerical person is required in the support of such professional employees.

With the present authorization the Chief of Training Division states that it is necessary to hold up the entrance of people into Office of Policy Coordination type covert training from six to eight weeks. Office of Policy Coordination requirements call for the covert training of 14 people each course which lasts two months. On this basis the ratio would be one instructor for each 2.8 or 3 students which for covert training appears reasonable.
